Dedication

In 1937, a rather inexperienced fellow by the name of Joe Judkins came to Milford seeking a teaching position at MHS. Since he was able to teach math and also direct musical groups, he obtained the job. Mr. Judkins obviously liked the community, the school and the people as much as they liked him, for he has been here ever since. Milford High School had been producing some good bands before 1937, but after that date the period of excellent musical groups at MHS began. At this time, 1962, the name of Joe Judkins is no longer associated with inexperience. The record which the MHS band and chorus have accomplished in the various group contests under the direction of Mr. Judkins is certainly one of Milford's claims to fame. We, the Class of 1962, are happy to have been under the instruction of Mr. Judkins for the past several years. We learned to know him as a teacher, director, producer, mechanic, humorist and just plain friend. In the light of these traits, his twenty-five years at MHS and his contribution to our education, we take pride in dedicating this yearbook, the 1962 Trojanette, to Mr. Joseph Judkins.

MILFORD HIGH SCHOOL

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

MILFORD, INDIANA

May 25, 1962

To the Class of '62:

Congratulations! You are now graduates of Milford High School. You have every reason to be proud of this accomplishment. Many who started out with you have failed to see the value of completing their high school education.

Although graduating from high school is a milestone in your lives it is not the end in itself. Your class motto "Not finished; just beginning" should be a constant reminder that there is always a need to better prepare yourselves for the tasks you will encounter. Some of you will continue your formal education and others will specialize in vocations of your choice. Whatever your area of endeavor might be, attempt to do it to the best of your ability.

It is the hope of your teachers that your school has helped you to be prepared to do your best. It is also their hope that your school has helped you to take your place in your community and to become useful citizens.

Mr. Noble Neff, Mr. Harold Young, and all the teachers join me in wishing you a happy and successful future.

Sincerely yours,

Donn D. Kesler

Dear Friends,

Just as the "gay nineties" have left an imperishable record for all time, so may this nineteen hundred and sixty-two issue of the "Trojanette" remain as a record of the past school year.

Flitting through the halls of M.H.S. is a spirit - - sometimes called our mascot. Of course you all know who we mean; he's a Trojan! During the course of the 1961-62 school year, the Trojan saw many humorous as well as many serious scenes in the rooms and halls of M.H.S.

We on the annual staff were visited one night by the Trojan and he told us the many stories and scenes that he had heard and seen during the year. We have tried to faithfully recreate them on the pages that follow.

Settle back and enjoy a personally guided tour by the Trojan through M.H.S. There will be much that is frivolous because we believe that life is fullest when laughter and fun have their rightful places. Yet underneath the gay exterior, we are serious, sober, and ambitious. Our many high school activities are proof of this.

May you enjoy this yearbook as you read it and may you also remember that we seniors are "flesh and blood" human beings with hates, fears, strengths, and weaknesses only wishing to take our places in the world as we leave the sheltering halls of M.H.S.

Herewith we submit our year of efforts to your criticisms - - be they good or bad.

Sincerely,

The Staff of the 1962 "Trojanette"

Administration

An Efficient Head

Every organization needs an efficient head. Below are the men who make up the efficient head of the Milford school system. The Trojan told us of the many extra hours they worked to help make the school system better and more modern. Needless to say, these men carry all of the important decisions on their shoulders, and they should be complimented for the fine work they have done.

Noble W. Neff was named trustee in December 1961. Dr. Neff taught in Milford from 1922 to 1942. He was a coach from 1922 to 1928; he coached the famous "peppermint boys." He served on the advisory board for nineteen years and on the county committee for school reorganization. Dr. Neff graduated from the Indiana Veterinary College in Indianapolis and received a B. S. degree from Manchester College.

W. Harold Young, a well-liked, genial principal, is the supervising principal for the Milford schools. This is his third year as supervising principal; previous to this Mr. Young served as principal for twenty-four years. In his twenty-seven years with the Milford school system, Mr. Young's teaching fields include Latin, social studies, and mathematics. He merited his A. B. degree from Evansville College and M. A. degree from Indiana University.

For three years Donn Duane Kesler has been our high school principal. Mr. Kesler has been an excellent teacher and principal during all the nine years he has been with the Milford school system. Commerce and social studies are Mr. Kesler's teaching areas. He earned his M. S. degree from Indiana University.

The advisory board, John Davidsen, Herb Baumgartner, and Maurice Beer, is busy approving measures such as building improvements, the purchasing of equipment, and the employment of teachers. The trustee and the advisory board work closely together. The school attorney, Donald Vandeveer, advises the board and the trustee on legal matters.

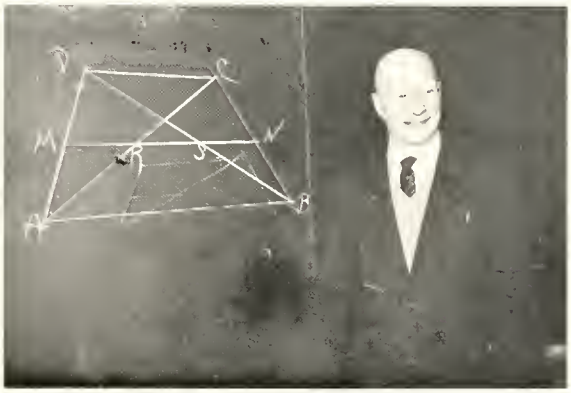
Faculty

Even while we may complain that our teachers are hard on us, the Trojan reminds us that hard work won't hurt us, and anyway it is good for us! Actually we have a grand faculty and we have a lot of fun together both in school and at parties, sport events,

"Don't forget to wash the dishes, so I won't have to do them!" Mrs. Arthur is the home economics teacher at M. H. S. She also is the guidance counselor for the girls.



"Now there are two ways to work this problem." Mr. Judkins is not only our band and chorus director and assistant principal, but he also teaches geometry, algebra, and physics.

"Oh, well! It was just a telephone pole!" Mr. Hullinger teaches geography, history, arithmetic, and dr. training.

"Fum! Fum! Fum!" This is Miss Knox's first year teaching in Milford. She teaches history and music.

"In the human body there are 206 bones; learn them for tomorrow." Mr. Allen teaches biology, general science, physical education, health, driver's training, and he is also the assistant coach.

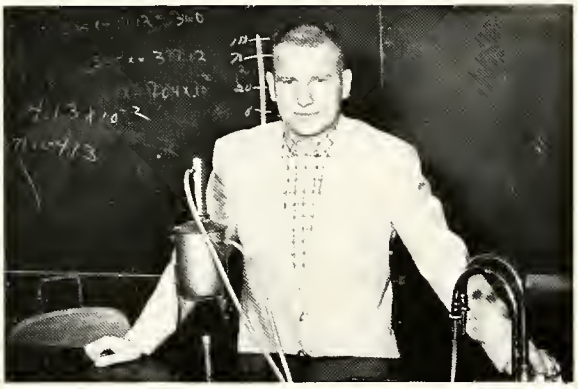
"Now in 1776 . . . " United States history, world history, government, psychology, occupations, and mathematics are the courses Mr. Beiswanger teaches.

Faculty

and other sponsored activities. On this page and the previous one we have portrayed the teachers in their typical roles and have added below each picture the most common saying of each teacher.

"The three basic colors are red, blue, and yellow," Mrs. Phend teaches art and English.

"a-s-d-f-space-j-k-l-;" Mrs. Robinson teaches general business, typing, physical education, and arithmetic.



"Don't you students have your workbooks done yet?" Mr. VanMeter is our coach; he also teaches general mathematics, physical science, physical education, and algebra.

"Amo, Amas, Amat" Mrs. Williams is the librarian at M. H. S., and she also teaches English and Latin.

"A cow has one stomach with four compartments." Agriculture, biology, shop, and adult farmer supervision are taught by Mr. Strouse.

"Speak the speech I pray you, as I pronounced it to you." This is Mrs. Tompkin's first year teaching at M. H. S.; last year she taught special education. English, speech and dramatics are the subjects she teaches.

Behind The Scenes At MHS

Many of us never realize the great amount of work that the secretary, the bus drivers, the custodians, and the cooks do. The Trojan told us all about how hard they work to make school as pleasant and as fun for the students as they can.

Mrs. Bess graduated from MHS in 1960. For the past two years she has done an excellent job. The Trojan says that she not only has secretarial duties to perform, but she also takes care of cuts and scratches, and listens to all the problems of the upperclassmen.

Remember those "cold" Monday mornings during the winter? Well, as the Trojan reminded us, they weren't cold mornings for long, because the custodians soon had the schools as cozy as toast! The custodians, Wilber Baumgartner and Levi Beer, also are the ones who keep the schools so sparkling and bright.

The cooks, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Vanlanningham, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Rink, Mrs. Haab, Mrs. Moneyheffer, Mrs. Wise, and Mrs. Fox really outdid themselves this year. Remember those delicious hot lunches? How welcome they were on those "below zero" days.

The Trojan told us about the men who bring the country students to school and take them home after school; they are the bus drivers. He told us their names, how long they have driven for MHS, and their routes this year. They are Hop Haab, 11 1/2 years, east of Milford; Theo Beer, 19 years, west of Milford; Richard Hollar, 14 years, west of Milford; Stanley Scott, 3 years, southeast of Milford; Jerry Bushong, 7 years, south and southeast of Milford; Ralph Berkeypile, 1-1/2 years, northwest of Milford; Merle Campbell, Jr., 4 years, north and east of Milford; and Ralph Neff, 40 years, Jefferson Township.

Informal Shots

While walking in the halls of MHS, one may see some rather informal situations. By taking advantage of these situations, the Trojan was able to provide us with a number of interesting pictures for this page. To make this yearbook as varied as possible, we now present some informal shots of some formal people.

What's Mrs. P. painting?

On May 6, 1962, the entire Senior Class of MHS left Warsaw for a trip to two of the most famous cities in the United States. Using the money which had been earned through projects and dues, the class started on one of the most memorable weeks of the school year. In New York, in addition to the United Nations, Chinatown and the Statue of Liberty, the Seniors saw Radio City Music Hall, the musical "Camelot," The Empire State Building, the Bowery, the ocean liner "Sylvannia," Macy's, Greenwich Village and many other interesting sights. After the stay in New York the Seniors moved to Washington, D. C. Here points of interest were the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, the Jefferson Memorial, the Supreme Court, the Capitol Building, the Wax Museum, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the White House, Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, and the Smithsonian Institute. The group also visited the office of Senator Vance Hartke. While in New York, the Class of '62 stayed in the New Yorker Hotel and in Washington they stayed in the Marriett Motel. The entire tour was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Donn Kesler and directed by Seniorama Tours.

Once upon a time there was a group of boys and girls who were carefree and gay. In 1950 they came together to form the Class of 1962. These innocent young kids studied and played together for twelve years. Gradually they developed into the type of students that Seniors are supposed to be. The Trojan told us some of the outstanding characteristics that the Class of 1962 has shown. The class is . . . . .

Here are those cute little carefree characters as they appeared in their early years. Some have changed a great deal, while others have changed little. To test your power of recognition the Trojan has provided us with numbers instead of names. If you are unable to remember the faces of these little fellows and girls, you can find the answers to the Trojan's puzzle on the last page of the Trojanette.

Commencement

On May 25, 1962, the Class of '62 was graduated from MHS. This 52nd Commencement was of special significance because it marked the commencement of the last class to be graduated from Milford High School of Van Buren Township. In the future years the Milford High School will be part of the Lakeland School Corporation. The exercises opened with the traditional processional "Pomp and Chivalry." The invocation was given by Rev. Robert Perkins. This was followed by a response "Thanks Be To Thee" played by the High School Band. Mr. Young introduced the speaker of the evening, R. Harold Van Cleave. His speech was followed by the playing of the "Lost Chord" by the High School Band with the Seniors participating. The diplomas were presented by Mr. Young. The combined band and chorus then presented the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." After this number the special awards were given by Mr. Kesler. Rev. Elmer Hartter gave the benediction and the Seniors moved off the stage as the band played the recessional "Proud Heritage." The class formed a line at the rear of the gymnasium and there they received the congratulations of the audience.

We leave behind a host of wonderful memories which will linger with us for many years. Our high school days were filled with experiences which helped us to take advantage of the learning ability we have. Now as some of us go on to college, others into the service of our country, and still others into the world of work, we point out the truth which is held in our motto,"Not finished, just beginning." Indeed we are beginning to take our place in the world, a place for which we were in part prepared by our four short years at MHS.

Special Awards

On the night of Commencement, Mr. Kesler presented several special awards to members of the graduating class. The Trojan was able to tell us of most of the other awards which some of the graduates had received earlier in the year and earlier in their high school careers. We present now these awards. Honor Emblems went to Pat Weldy, Mary Jane Beer, Jennifer Sunthimer, Beth Overstedt, and Denny Cory. Recognition for perfect attendance for the Senior year was given to Lynn Knisely, Greg Biller, Steve Cormany, Mary Hollar, and Janice Rapp. Beth Overstedt was presented the Salutatorian pin and Denny Cory was presented the Valedictorian pin along with the Activities pin. The Sports pin went to Max Dunca. The Arion Award was one of the awards which was given earlier in the year. These awards went to Jennifer Sunthimer for chorus and to Denny Cory for band. Mary Jane Beer received the baton from Mr. Judkins in recognition for her cooperation and hard work in band. Three Senior athletes received award jackets this year. They were Max Duncan, Bill Troup, and Ron Baumgartner. At the first Sports Banquet held at MHS, Max received the batting trophy and the sportsmanship trophy. Bill received the free throw trophy. A trophy was presented to Marcia Dewart for her three years of Varsity cheerleading. Three members of the class of 1962 had received scholarships at the time of this printing. Howard Woodward was granted a scholarship for Purdue University in conjunction with the National Merit Test. Jennifer Sunthimer was awarded the Alden Miller Scholarship for Cornell for her musical ability. Denny Cory was given the Harrison National Academic Scholarship and an Honor Scholarship for Manchester College. In the Home Economics department, two Senior girls were given awards. Corinne was given the trophy as the Outstanding Girl in Home Economics. Beth Overstedt was given the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award.

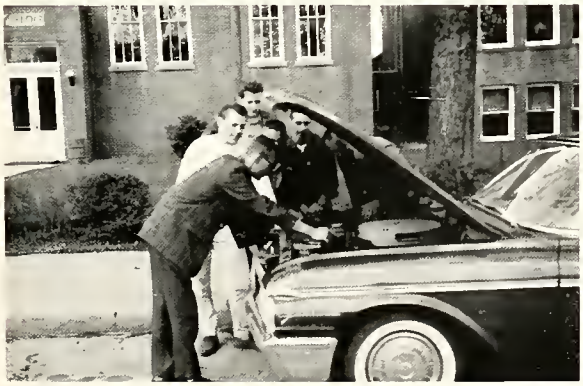
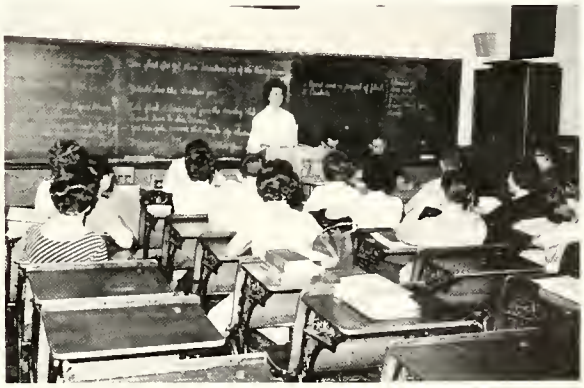
In The Classrooms

Upon discussing the many activities of MHS the Trojan said, "Say, you know that activities aren't all that concerns the majority of the students at MHS. They also study and work hard. I had several pictures taken when classes were being conducted, and I think you might be interested in them." Indeed we were interested; we thought you might enjoy seeing these pictures of the students at work as much as we did, because it really isn't often that work is recorded as are the good times and good fun.

The commerce department is an important department at MHS. Pictured are two of the commerce classes, bookkeeping and typing. The bookkeeping class is composed of seniors. Mr. Kesler, our principal, has taught bookkeeping since he came to MHS. The typing classes are composed of juniors. There were two sections of them this year. Some students in class reached the fantastic rate of seventy words per minute - - so the Trojan tells us. Mrs. Robinson is the instructor of this course. This is the first year she has taught typing in MHS. Pictured with Mr. Kesler is the senior bookkeeping class, and pictured with Mrs. Robinson are Gloria Sierk and Donna Yoder, two junior girls who took typing.





Driver's training is one of the extra classes which MHS offers. Almost all of the students take this course before applying for their driver's license. The Trojan told us that this course is one good preventive of automobile accidents. Our two instructors for this class are Mr. Allen and Mr. Hullinger, who are pictured by the car explaining a point about the engine to some students. Speech is another elective course which MHS offers. Mrs. Tompkins taught the first full year class of speech and dramatics this year. Humorous and dramatic readings, debates, impromptu and extemporaneous speeches and play summaries were given by the students of this class, which is made up of juniors and seniors. This class also built the first solid stage flats used at MHS. Pictured giving a debate are Mary Hollar, Greg Biller, and Howard Woodward.

In The Classrooms

MHS offers a wide variety of subjects for all interest fields. Not only is there a strong academic course for those who are planning to go to college, but there is also a vocational course and a business course for those who plan to marry, farm, or go to business school. The Trojan brought us a wide variety of pictures from all of these fields of interest at MHS. Pictured on this page are the science department and the vocational department. Trying to change the curriculum to advance with this modern age is one of the important duties of our administrative staff.

Every school has its science department and MHS is no exception. Pictured in the above two pictures are some of the "Mad Scientists." Junior "Doly" Price and Marcia Dewart are physical science students and are shown setting up a condensor system - - probably for condensing steam into water. Jan Widup and Garry Miller are shown with their physics instructor, Mr. Judkins. Here they are experimenting with specific heat. However, the Trojan tells us that all of these students experimented in many other fields such as electricity, magnetism, light, heat, and chemical combinations. Needless to say, everyone in science has to crack a book as well as conduct experiments in order to fully understand the experiments one is conducting.

The vocational department of MHS includes agriculture, shop, and home economics. Mr. Strouse, the agriculture and shop teacher, is pictured here with Mervin Mast in the shop discussing a shop project, a gun case. Some of the shop and agriculture projects this year were tool boxes, bookcases, painting tractors, repairing small engines, and studying about hogs, sheep, and cattle. Mrs. Arthur, the home economics teacher, is showing Judy Vanlaningham and Cindy Taylor some basic facts about selecting material. The home economics girls were very busy sewing and baking (even pies!). The senior and junior girls have a course the second semester entitled Family Relations. It covered many of the problems girls encounter in marriage and rearing children.

School Band

The high school band was composed of fifteen seniors, eleven juniors, thirteen sophomores, thirteen freshmen, and seven eighth graders. The band was led by Mr. Judkins. This is his twenty-fifth year as a band director at MHS. In the twenty-five years Mr. Judkins has directed the MHS band, it has received seventeen firsts at the district band contest and thirteen firsts at the state band contest. For nine consecutive years the band merited firsts in both the state band contest and the district band contest. The MHS band has received four seconds in the district band contest and four seconds in the state band contest. During three other of his twenty-five years at MHS, Mr. Judkins has gone with the band on concert tour to southern Indiana. On November 8 the annual Fall Concert was presented closely followed by the County Band and Chorus Festival on November 12. Many students in the band participated in the piano and vocal contest on January 27, the instrumental contest on February 3, and the state vocal and instrumental contest on February 17. The Spring Concert was presented on March 16. Giving up a day of Easter vacation the band went on a concert tour of southern Indiana. The commencement music was played by the band as was the Memorial Day parade music.

M.H.S. Christmas Tradition

The Christmas program has become a tradition at M.H.S. The Trojan covered the scene for us this year. The Community Building was filled to capacity; the lights dimmed; and a hush fell over the crowd. The junior high choir with the sixth grade choir under the direction of Miss Knox opened the evening's program. This year they did something rather different from anything done before. They presented the true story of Christmas in song and story.

The high school choir opened their program with the traditional processional preceded by the lighting of the candles by the acolytes. After several selections on the stage, the choir formed the living Christmas tree. This traditional formation is pictured above. Jennifer Sunthimer was the soloist at the top of the tree this year, and she did a commendable job singing "Baby Jesus."

Band Tour 1962

This was the third band tour that the Milford High School has taken. The first was in 1957, the second in 1960 and the third this year. All of these trips have been to southern Indiana and the band has stayed overnight at Clifty Falls State Park near Madison, Indiana, on all three of these trips. This year the tour was five hundred miles long. The band traveled in chartered buses, and the instruments were carried in a school bus. The band students gave up a day of their Easter vacation and a day of school to make the trip on April 23 and 24. The money for the trip was raised by the band through their Fall and Spring Concerts and a candy sale. The Trojan said that he saw all of the students having fun on the trip. Many of the band members rode horses and hiked trails at Clifty. Everyone went for a drive into Kentucky Monday evening and then went window shopping in Madison. The band played three concerts on the tour. One each was played at Galveston, Madison and Sunman. The band arrived home tired, but happy. It was a wonderful tour!

Intermediate Band

The Intermediate Band is an important part of the Milford music program. This band acts as an independent group in performing at the two annual concerts at Milford. Perhaps the most important role of this organization is that of feeder unit for the High School Band. This year, under the direction of Mr. Judkins, the Intermediate Band won a superior rating at the band contest held at Goshen, Indiana. The group is made up of sixth, seventh and eighth graders.

Jr. High Chorus

Miss Knox is the director of the two choirs pictured above. This is her first year as music instructor in MHS. One choir is the girl's choir; it is composed of seventh grade girls. The other choir is the eighth grade boys and girls mixed choir. These choirs were extremely busy this year with practicing for and participating in a 4-H program, MHS's annual Christmas program, and the annual community Holy Week services. As in the case of the Intermediate Band, this group acts as a feeder group for the high school choir.

Courtesy King and Queen

This year marked the start of a new tradition at MHS. The idea of a "Courtesy Week" was introduced at a Student Council meeting and from there it grew and grew, ending with the presentation of the names of the Courtesy King and Queen. Courtesy Week was held in March to help promote the use of courtesy in the halls of MHS. During the week the object was to remember the small, nice things that make life pleasant for everyone. The faculty observed the actions of the students throughout this week. The Trojan told us that the faculty had an extremely difficult time in selecting which boy and girl were the most courteous and polite. Now, with great pleasure, the Trojanette presents the Courtesy King and Queen of Milford High School for 1962.

"Trojanette"

Publishing an annual is no easy job; however, with the help of a fine, energetic staff, the editor did a commendable job. Keeping up on the activities and interests of the student body is a full time job. An addition to the annual this year was different copy and new arrangements of the grade students and the seniors. This is a senior project and all profits go to the senior class to finance the senior trip.

Most of the layout and copy work was on the shoulders of the editorial staff. Beth Overstedt, the copy editor, wrote most of the copy for the yearbook. The Trojan tells us that Janice Rapp, the assistant editor, also helped with the copy, as well as working with Denny Cory, the editor, on layout. Denny also planned the whole story and layout. No organization is complete without a competent sponsor. Mr. Kesler worked closely with the staff all year.

Jennifer Sunthimer and Mary Hollar worked on advertising this year. Advertising includes talking to prospective advertisers, writing up ads, and rechecking to see that all ads are put into the annual. Ann Schlotterback and Willie Free worked on subscriptions this year. The Trojan said that the subscriptions were slow at the beginning of the year; however, because of the hard work of the subscription staff, the subscription rate increased. Max Duncan and Ron Baumgartner, in the back row, also helped with advertising. Mary Zimmerman helped with subscriptions.

Bill Troup and Lynn Knisely spent a lot of time working out the sport pages in the annual, as the Trojan tells us. Photography was handled expertly by Corinne Morehouse, Jerry Warstler, and Junior Price.

The "Trojanette" staff has an office staff to keep letters, proof pages, and all other typing caught up. Sandra Knepper, Jane Beer, and Pat Weldy were the typists this year. The Trojan told us that these were no easy jobs.

"Blue and Gray"

The "Blue and Gray" staff is one of the journalism staffs at M.H.S. Each month they publish an issue filled with interesting stories and articles. A new addition to the paper this year was a series of articles on the admission requirements of eleven colleges in Indiana. Another addition was the addition of borders on the inside pages.

Mrs. Tompkins is the new sponsor for the paper this year. Jennifer Sunthimer fills a new post created this year, the feature editor; she wrote the many unusual stories. Howard Woodward, the editor, and Susie Beer, the assistant editor, kept the staff working together smoothly this year. Ronn Brown and Dennis Cory were the business managers; they collected subscriptions and paid the bills.

No journalism staff is complete without an office staff. Jane Beer, Jerry Warstler, and Sandra Knepper typed the paper. Ann Schlotterback was the exchange editor; she mailed issues of the paper to other schools and received their papers. Max Rarick and Beth Overstedt were the stencil artists this year; they are the ones who drew the covers and decorated the inside pages. Janice Rapp was another typist.

Pat Weldy, one of the society editors, gathered club news and wrote stories on social events. Marcia Dewart collected jokes and humorous essays for the paper. Do you remember that snoopy Snooper? Well, blame everything on Mary Hollar. In the back row is Joe Jessop, a Spied and Heard editor. JoLene Housour helped Pat Weldy with the society news. Gloria Slabaugh, another Spied and Heard editor, and Junior Price, a humor editor, complete the gossip staff of the "Blue and Gray."

Connie Hartter was the grade editor this year; she collected grade news and handed out grade copies of the issues. Lynn Knisely and Don Bucher wrote the sports news this year. Reporters form the body of a paper staff. The junior high and high school reporters were Carolyn Crowl, JoEllen McClintic, Ann Purdum, Mary Zimmerman, Mike Treesh, and Ned Speicher.

Girl's Athletic Association

This association sponsors varied activities as decided by the membership. These have included sports, clinics, play days, and camps. A fall leadership training camp is conducted for sponsors and student officers of G.A.A. groups. This organization has grown from eleven members in 1931 to one hundred and sixty today. The purpose of G.A.A. is to stimulate the co-curricular phase of the high school girl's physical educational program. Awards are granted on the basis of points earned during the year. Points are based on time spent on activities plus skill in a variety of sports.

Future Farmers of America

The FFA is a national organization for boys studying vocational agriculture in high school. It was organized in 1928 and Indiana was the nineteenth state to be chartered. The primary aim of the FFA is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. This year the local chapter consisted of thirty-one boys, the largest in Milford's history. Some of the members participated in such contests as parliamentary procedure, vegetable judging, dairy and general livestock judging and others. The money making projects this year were the sale of tractor seats and garden seeds. This year's total sale of garden seeds was six hundred dollars of which one hundred and seventy-five dollars was realized as profit to be used to sponsor the annual FFA parent and son banquet.

The name of this club is obtained by spelling homemaker backwards. As the name denotes the purpose of the club is to promote homemaking in the homes and to extend the ideas of the classrooms into the homes. This club is strictly for home economics girls. This organization has a system of points that must be earned by the member to receive her letter in the senior year. This year the total needed was two hundred. Points are earned by doing home economic work at home.

Cheerleaders

The Basketball courts rang with "Yea, Blue; Yea, White!", "It's victory tonight!", "Go, Trojans, Go!", and "Trojans, Fight!" this season. The newly formed cheering block was ably led by our three cheerleaders, Sally Berkeypile, Marcia Dewart, and Vicki Fuller. These girls earned their positions by trying out before the student body of MHS. These three girls practiced long hours after school and in the evening. They also attended a special cheerleader camp for further instruction in cheerleading. Then on basketball game nights they cheered our boys on when they were ahead and encouraged them to win when they were behind. The Trojan tells us that Marcia is a senior; she has been a varsity cheerleader for the past three years and was a second team cheerleader in her freshman year. Sally and Vicki are juniors; they have been varsity cheerleaders for the past two years and were also second team cheerleaders in their freshman year.

Basketball Queen

"I crown you Queen Becky." Coach VanMeter crowns the new queen as the 1961 Basketball Queen, Vicki Fuller looks on. Becky Hoerr becomes the 1962 Basketball Queen to reign over the coming season.

In one of the most spirited Basketball Queen Contests ever held at MHS, the Trojan saw four lovely class representatives trying for the honor of 1962 Queen. The candidates were Corinne Morehouse - Class of '62, Becky Baker - Class of '63, Connie Hartter - Class of '64, and Becky Hoerr - Class of '65. The announcement of the winner and the coronation took place at the first home game.

This year was a building year for the Trojans. With only two letter men, the team had a need for more experience. Mr. VanMeter put the team together with an eye to the future and the boys came through in many games. In the rough type of competition in the county and area the Trojans were able to win their share of victories. The team will lose only three boys in graduation, which points to a more seasoned team next year.

THE BATTERY

This year the baseball team had a disappointing season, but with the large number of returning lettermen, Coach VanMeter can look forward to better things next year. Since the regular battery was made up of sophomores the lack of real experience was unavoidable. These boys showed an improved style of ball as the season closed. The loss of ball games often leads to the loss of fighting spirit, but these players kept working every game. If the fellows who are returning next year take advantage of the experience that all of them have gained and couple it with team spirit, the season ahead will be brighter.

Row 3: M. Groves, L. Hoover, S. Stump, S. Weisser, R. Estep, W. Stephenson.

RECORD HOLDING TRACKMEN OF MHS

These two athletes gained a place in the record books this season by their performances in track meets. Max Duncan set the new MHS record for the shotput. The length of his put was 47' 1 1/2". John Gerber won honors for MHS with his record jump in the broad jump of the County Track Meet. His jump is a county meet record, but is about two inches off the MHS record. Max graduates this year, but John has the chance to come back to better his record.

THANK YOU!

The Class of 1962 wishes to thank the many merchants and businessmen whose cooperation in the purchasing of advertising in this annual made the whole yearbook possible!

This space is dedicated to the people who always find something missing in their yearbook. Whatever it may be, they can place it here.
